

Annual report of the environmental education programme Environmental education is for everyone! 2024

AMCAH A.C.

Connecting children and young people in vulnerable situations in the conservation and protection of birds in the state of Quintana Roo, Mexico.

For two years AMCAH A.C. has carried out the environmental education programme Environmental education is for everyone! an initiative focused on children and young people in vulnerable situations who live in various institutions in the city of Cancun, Quintana Roo. In this programme we carry out recreational and awareness-raising activities on the protection of birds and the biodiversity of the Yucatan Peninsula.

Objective

To make a poster that will contain the design of ten species of common birds of the Yucatan Peninsula. The poster will be given to the institutions we visit and at the same time will have an educational purpose, we believe it will be a very important tool to reinforce knowledge and also a way to raise awareness not only among children and young people in the institutions but also among workers, teachers and managers about the importance of protecting birds and their ecosystems.

Results

Thanks to your support we were able to design and print 80 posters with ten species of common birds of the Yucatan Peninsula, which were distributed to various institutions.
